

About Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping and Open Publication License

Copyright ©2003-2004 San José State University Library.

Modified 2005 by Tarrant County College Libraries <http://library.tccd.edu>

This material has been reproduced subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping Open Publication License:
<http://tutorials.sjlibrary.org/license/plagiarism/>

Tutorial Development

Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping contains original text, graphics, animations, and interactive quizzes. This material may be reproduced, distributed, or incorporated only subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping Open Publication License:
<http://tutorials.sjlibrary.org/license/plagiarism/>

Credits

Members of the San José State University Library Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping Development Team include:

Pamela Jackson,	Librarian Content and Quiz Development
Bridget Kowalczyk	Information Literacy Competence Specialist
Jessie Cai	Programming
Wan Si Wan	Animation/Flash Version
Andrea Lam	Graphics/Non-Flash Version

Modified May 2005 by members of Tarrant County College District Libraries:

Danelle Ellis	Public Services Librarian – TCC Northwest
Diana McCown	Public Services Librarian – TCC Southeast
Jim Robinson	Media Manager – TCC South
Melissa Speed	Public Services Librarian – TCC South

Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping Open Publication License Agreement

Individuals and institutions may copy Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping text, graphics, animations, and scripts to use on their own campuses and customize in whole or in part. To do so:

1. Read and agree to the Open Publication License (OPL) located on the San Jose Library website <http://tutorials.sjlibrary.org/license/plagiarism/>;
2. Register with your name and contact information;
3. Download Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping.

Plagiarism: The Crime of Intellectual Kidnapping is distributed to all interested parties at no charge under an OPL.